Arizona State University	Arizona State University, Scottsdale Unified School District, Hohokam Traditional school	I plan on working with ELL or Special Ed students on extra study hours after school.	I realized by speaking with these children that it is very important that they fully understand instructions on tests and activities so they can achieve positive results.
Arizona State University	A title 1 elementary school in Navajo.	I would like to work with special needs children through out my life. I also plan on becoming a teacher in a title 1 school.	I learned how to best service children and the different interventions there are out there.
Arizona State University	Sullivan Elementary School	I am graduating with a degree in elementary education and plan to pursue a career in education.	I learned how to manage and teach a diverse group of students and increase their test scores by providing small group instruction.
Arizona State University	AmeriCorps/Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College	Being an educator is directly correlated with serving the community. I will continue to teach in a high needs area within a high needs subject (biology).	Never underestimate the impact involvement has on students, thus the community.
Arizona State University	iTeachAZ Avondale	I plan to start working as a full time teacher. As a teacher I will always be involved with my students, the school, and the community.
Arizona State University		charity runs, special Olympics, education	Education reform is essential in the state of Arizona
Arizona State University	Park Meadows Elementary School	I plan to Volunteer in schools in other countries.
Arizona State University	Hohokam Traditional School	I plan to become a teacher in a title 1 school with a degree in special education and general education.	Working with the children and watching them learn is such a joy. It is rewarding when the students show growth in their learning.
Arizona State University	Hohokam Traditional School	I am becoming a teacher and plan to volunteer with different types of organizations. I want to work with middle school students and find time to be a coach for sports.	I feel that the students do view me as one of their teachers, they look forward to learning with me daily. I feel that they are not the other ones learning in the classroom. Everyday I am learning for each of my students.
Arizona State University	El Mirage Elementary School	I plan on getting a job in education next year after graduating from ASU. I plan on teaching in a low income title one school in grade 3-5.	This service has made feel much more prepared to be a teacher in the classroom. I feel that I have made huge connections with the children. Also I feel that this experience will help to become a highly effective teacher in my own classroom.
Arizona State University	Gavilan Peak School	I plan to continue serving my community through participation in the school environment I am currently at. My job title at my school is at a student teacher for the special education department.	I have always heard great things about the AmeriCorps program and I am thrilled that I have been given the opportunity to participate in such a renowned program. I have learned how to become an active member in the community and I do feel I have made an impact on my students thus far. Simply by the way my students greet me each day shows me I am making a positive difference in their lives.
Arizona State University	Balsz Elementary School	As a future educator I plan to inspire students to do their best in all they do and help them reach their academic potential.

Arizona State University	iTeachAZ Dysart - El Mirage Elementary	My career of service will absolutely be as a teacher in a Title I school. I have seen the need for passionate teachers in these schools. Knowing I am passionate for my career, students and the community I am around, I know I can help these students.
Arizona State University	iTeach AZ	I plan to become an elementary school teacher. After serving in a Title 1 school and seeing how excited the students are to be at school and to learn, I would love to find a job in a Title 1 school.	Throughout my experience in the Compact Service Corps AmeriCorps program I have learned to restrain judgment. Just because a parent is not able to get in contact with you after you have tried multiple times to set up a conference (of any form) does not mean they do not care. The parents of children at my school are sometimes working three to four jobs just to get by. These parents do care, they just must prioritize.
Arizona State University	Madison School district	After graduation I plan to begin teaching, most likely in a low-income urban community
Arizona State University	Edison Elementary	Math teacher	The program has given me valuable hands-on experience in the classroom.
Arizona State University	Scales Technology Academy	For the duration of my college career, I plan on participating in the Compact Service Corps program, and after I graduate I will continue on in a career of service in education. I see working in education as a way to improve the lives of my students and the community.	At the beginning of the year, several of my students only knew two words: I can't. They have come from a history of believing that they did not have what it takes to be in school, but I have tirelessly encouraged them and given them the tools to succeed. While they are still growing and learning, their small steps of success have taught me the power of positivity and how much it means to have someone believe in you.
Arizona State University	Scales Technology Academy- Title 1 school	I will continue to volunteer with my reading group and help them grow as readers as well as continue to pursue a degree in education.	Working with children in a Title 1 school is different than the other schools that I have been to in the area. These children want to learn and want to be at school. They want to do good and make their parents proud and bring home what they learned to teach to their family members who may not have had the chance to go to much school themselves. It has opened my eyes to see them shine.
Arizona State University		I plan to continue working in Title 1 schools, lending my education to the students, families, and communities that need it.	I've experiences heartbreaking stories and situations that young children are put through daily, but I have also seen a tremendous amount of academic growth in these students that it is hard not to smile when you see them.
Arizona State University	Title 1 Public School	I plan on becoming a special education teacher.
Arizona State University	Navajo Elementary School	I hope to be a full time first grade teacher in any community.	I have been teaching 16 English language learners, it has been the best experience to my education this far.
Arizona State University		I am going to teach.
Arizona State University	Roosevelt school district	I will serve the community as a educator	I learned how to deal with behavioral problems because of my positive time spend at an all ED school.
Arizona state university		I hope to help children with special needs.	I loved it!!

Arizona State University	Madison Camelview Elementary	Continue to do my student teaching in a title 1 school
Arizona State University	Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College Special Education at Patterson Elementary	I do a lot of volunteer work with my church and I plan on continuing to help with whatever projects they have.	I really learned a lot from being at a school that is just starting full inclusion. It gave me a great opportunity to work with the students with disabilities to help them be successful in the general education classroom.
Arizona State University	Hohokam Elementary School - Title 1	I would like to use the skills that I am gaining through my teaching experience in AmeriCorps to create a homeschool network for community members.	Reaching out to parents of another culture and different lifestyle/situation during parent-teacher conferences really changed the way I view time with the kids in my class; it really opened my eyes!
Arizona State University	ASU Teaches	I plan to serve the community as a special education teacher.	I have learned classroom management skills and have been working hands on with student with learning disabilities. Through this firsthand experience, I have gained much knowledge about specific learning disabilities and I have acquired some tools that are useful in working with these students.
Arizona State University	Madison Camelview students	I plan on continuing with AmeriCorps.	Help students in whatever way possible!
Arizona State University	Mendoza Elementary School	Big Brothers Big Sisters program and through being a Special Education teacher.
Arizona State University	Highland Lakes	being in the classroom as well as being involved in the sports programs after school.	classroom, deal with daily disturbances and fully experience what teaching will be like.
Arizona State University	Constitution Elementary School and ASU	I plan to work with vets and continue tutoring students	N/A
Arizona State University	Garcia Elementary School	I plan to inspire and help students through my future career as a teacher. I believe that students are our futures and have so much to offer, but it is up to the teacher to motivate them and provide them with the necessary skills to get there.
Arizona State University	Murphy school district/ Sullivan elementary	I plan on becoming a teacher in the future so I will serve students in my community have a better chance towards improving their future.
Arizona State University	Madison Camelview Elementary School	I plan to be an elementary school as a teacher. I plan to spend time within my school to help with fundraisers and community outreach programs.
Arizona State University	Balsz Elementary School	Right now I volunteer as a high school leader at my church. I offer support to the high schoolers at the church by talking with them, praying, and just being available when they need someone.	I learned a lot from this hands on experience especially about how to manage student behavior in a classroom using positive reinforcement.

Arizona State University	Navajo Elementary	I plan to continue working in the kindergarten classroom throughout the rest of the school year at Navajo. I hope to then begin my career in education after I graduate in May 2012.	Working in a Title 1 school taught me to be accepting and open minded. Previous to this experience I had so pre-conceived stereotypes about title 1 schools and actually working in a title 1 school with the students and helping them grow and learn totally changed those stereotypes. I have enjoyed working in this environment.
Arizona State University	Wilson Elementary	I plan to become a special education teacher.
Arizona State university	Sullivan Elementary School	Teaching in elementary schools
Arizona State University	Scales Technology Academy	I plan on becoming a teacher in the near future. I will graduate with a teaching degree come May 2012	All the hugs, drawings and love you receive from your students is worth the frustrations you will have to endure.
Arizona State University	Holdeman Elementary	I plan on pursuing a career as a teacher, which is serving the community in which teach.	My experience has taught me to be patient and kind when working with children.
Arizona State University	ASU Preparatory Academy Middle School	I plan on becoming a full time teacher as soon as I graduate in April where I can work with students full time.	I was touched when I had a student ask me if I could get a full time job working at their school next year because she said I have been one of the best teachers she's had.
Arizona State University	Herrera Elementary School	I plan to pursue a teaching job in a Title 1 school in Arizona.
Arizona State University	Michael Anderson Elementary	I plan to volunteer within my community and the communities around me. I also plan to finish my education career to be able to help more students.	I was given the opportunity to be in a classroom setting and be able to implement all that I have learned in my classes.
Arizona State University	Holdeman Elementary School	I plan to continue working with children of all ages in low-income/high needs schools	AmeriCorps has given me the opportunity to increase my effectiveness in the classroom.
Arizona State University		I plan on continuing to educate the second graders I've been placed with. We are learning new things everyday. We are starting to learn about the American Revolution and all the important people that were involved at this time.	I have been lucky enough to educate a group of seven second graders in reading groups. I have been working with the students to become more fluent and proficient while reading. I set a goal for my students at the beginning of the year which was by December the students will increase their words per minute by 25%. Each of my group members have reached the goal I set for them and they are continuing to increase each day. Some of the students when first test by DIBELS at the beginning of the year read roughly around 25-30 words per minute. Now the students are reading between 60-75 words per minute!
Arizona State University	Edison Elementary	I'm going to be a teacher in a low income area to help students become productive members of society.
Arizona State University	Patterson Elementary School	I plan on becoming a full time teacher. I also plan on assisting with after school tutoring programs.	I learned that not all students can be reached in the same way. Often, you must be creative about the way in which you present instructional content to ensure that the needs of all students are met.

Arizona State University	Phoenix Elementary School District - Shaw Elementary School	Once I become a teacher, my plans to continue serving my community in the future is to continue small group intervention, differentiate instruction for all students, serve in a low income area and focus on community involvement to enhance student support.	Some students in the classroom I was in were struggling really hard and falling behind in math. Once I begun my small group intervention I noticed that the majority of them simply lacked motivation. I then begun to create lesson plans that caught the interest of these students and I immediate noticed an increase in participation and engagement. This has taught me to keep the interest of the students in mind while lesson planning because if they are not interested, their motivation and will drops.
Arizona State University	Student teacher for Kindergarten	I plan on becoming a teacher	AmeriCorps provided me financial support while doing what I enjoy
Arizona State University	Scottsdale Unified School District at Navajo Elementary a Title school	I plan to teach in an Early Childhood field once I receive my degree and certificate.	I've learned that tracking students growth with the daily math progress monitoring is important to know where students are. Many students could have moved forward earlier due to a lack of tracking.
Arizona State University	Murphy School District	I already volunteer at my church as a Sunday School teacher and at times I volunteer with extra volunteer services they do. I plan on continuing to give back to my community as long as possible.
Arizona State University	Scales Technology Academy	I plan on becoming a math or science teacher in a low income area.	Nothing in particular stands out. I am just enjoying the time I have with my students and all that they have to teach me.
Arizona State University	Country Meadows Elementary	I feel a teacher's work is part career and part volunteering for the community	I am glad that I was placed in a Title 1 school because I was able to serve in AmeriCorps. The children that I worked with really inspired me to continue to work in areas where good teachers are needed the most. I'm fairly sure I learned more from them than they did from me! They taught me patience, perseverance and how it feels to be truly appreciated as a teacher.
Arizona State University	Alhambra High School	I plan to teach history at a junior high or high school in an urban Phoenix.	I was disheartened by the culture of low expectations/false hope that was prevalent amongst the students. I was encouraged by how receptive some of the students are to someone who is tough, but cares about them. I hope I can get better at providing motivating and supporting students.
Arizona State University	Superstition Springs Elementary	I want to help students with disabilities to be more confident, social, and successful in the school setting and to be okay with who they are and not to feel ashamed.
Arizona State University	Arizona State University Murphy district	I plan on volunteering in the field in education like tutoring. I also plan on keeping my future students on reading grade level by doing different strategies with them.	I was very impressed to see that my small group of first graders improved in their phonics instruction.
Arizona State University	Arizona State University	In my hopes of being a teacher I feel my professional experience I have taken away has helped me be better prepared for my first year of teaching along with a better teacher in the future.	Working in a low income area has really shown me how hard it is to be a second language learner. It has opened my eyes and made me see how strong they are and how they also teach me as well. It's a rewarding feeling.

Arizona State University	iTeachAZ through Arizona State University	In my hopes of becoming a future teacher, I plan to work specifically with underprivileged students and strive to show that everyone deserves an equal opportunity at success.	I have learned to put myself out there to better prepare for my future career as a teacher. I work better with others, I am more involved in activities that are not mandatory, but rather see the benefits they have on me and on others.
Arizona State University	Alfred Garcia Elementary	After graduating with my degree in elementary education, I fully intend on pursuing a career in the field of education. I am dedicated to the success of our future generation and I look forward to serving high-need school districts.	My time spent in the classroom has provided me with invaluable experience. My focus this term has mainly been to work with small groups of students to provide re-teaching on skills they have yet to master. Working with students in this way has helped me build patience, passion, and dedication to their success. Being a college student, I am also glad to serve as a role model for my students and letting them know the benefits to staying in school and pursuing a higher education.
Arizona State University	Desert Sky Middle School	I plan on continuing to serve through helping the community impact students lives in a positive way.
Arizona State University	IT each ASU	I plan to continue volunteering in my community. Next semester I will be student teaching. I will continue to volunteer even after my student teaching is over.	Through this experience, I saw the difference I made with the kids. I could see that what I was teaching, they were taking it in and learning. I taught the children new letters, words, numbers, and shapes. Seeing this taught me that I really can make a difference to children.
Arizona State University	Littleton Elementary School District in a 2nd grade SEI classroom	Small group instruction Whole group instruction Tutoring	I have learned to make the students talk about the same or even more than you do. The students need inquiry based learning and as well as lots of modeling.
Arizona State University	Anthem School	I would like to continue working with children with special needs in an academic setting. I hope to become a special education teacher so that I can continue advocating for children and helping them to achieve their goals.
Arizona State University	AmeriCorps	I plan on becoming a preschool or kindergarten teacher. I enjoy working and being able to see them learn through many different ways.
Arizona State University	Arizona State University	Among a plethora of other things, I will work as an educator in a high-needs subject area.	I was, on several occasions, able to work with students who were failing in their coursework or had behavior issues. From my experiences with those students, I was shown that all kids have the desire and drive to learn. The trick is helping them to focus and apply their skills to get where they need to be for success.
Arizona State University	Brimhall Junior High School, Mesa, AZ	I plan on completing future Americorps term(s). I also plan on teaching at a title one school upon graduation as a physics teacher.	I taught seventh grade science at a title one school. Our students are falling farther behind in their ability to learn. I think it has more to do with the lowering moral values of society as well as poorer parenting in general. As teachers, we need to stand as examples of what expectations should be required of all students.

Arizona State University	Scales Technology Academy (k-5th grade) Elementary I am a student at Arizona State university	I plan on teaching in Arizona, in a low income school.	This experience has taught me so much about teaching, classroom management, engaging students, teaching students to invest in their own learning, building community within the classroom, and how to be a caring, loving, exceptional teacher.
Arizona State University	Tres Rios Elementary School	I plan on becoming a teacher and doing what I can to help the community grow in its productive members.	Helping coach the girls soccer team was a great experience in team bonding, building relationships and the power of encouragement in a time of need.
Arizona State University	Scales Technology Academy	I plan to teach in an elementary school for several years, as many as possible. I hope I can impact my students in a positive way and I also want to volunteer in social services within the community I will teach in.
Arizona State University	AmeriCorps	I would like to help create and teach an English course for parents that cannot communicate in English.	I had an amazing time with the students. It was really eye opening how much they are willing to keep an open mind for you.
Arizona State University	Hohokam Traditional School	I plan to promote in my classroom volunteerism with my students. It will provide a means for them to participate in their community and build social skills, as well as to help them give back to their community	n/a
Arizona State University	Bellair Elementary School and Garden Lakes Elementary School	I plan to work with children either in an academic setting or in a performing arts field to further their goals and help them see their true potential.	There was one student in particular who had a difficult time with reading comprehension and over the course of my service I worked with him on improving his skills. By the time parent teacher conferences came around he had begun to show improvement on his testing scores. I came to the conferences with my mentor teacher, even though I had changed placement sites and already said goodbye to the students. the mom mentioned to me at the conference that her son had cried when the night I had left his class as a student teacher. It made me feel good to hear that I had such a strong impact on him.
Arizona State University	Desert Vista High School	I plan to become a math teacher at the secondary level, and as such I will play a critical role in preparing young people for higher education and a career.
Arizona State University	Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College
Arizona State University	Crockett Elementary	I will continue to work with small groups, whole group, and also individual.
Arizona State University	Littleton Elementary School	teaching	Teaching sixth grade math has taught me to look closely at my strategies and how to explain them many different ways for each kind of learner.
Arizona State University	Highland Lakes School	I plan to volunteer in the future at public schools and community events.	My experience has taught me that I can make a difference by providing service to those in need.

Arizona State University	Collier Elementary School	I plan on serving another term at Collier Elementary
Arizona State University	Highland Junior High	I plan on teaching in disadvantaged urban neighborhoods.
Arizona State University		I am planning to become an elementary school teacher so that I may assist young students with their learning needs and furthering their knowledge.
Arizona state university	Aprende middle school	I intend to become a teacher	It was a positive an enriching experience
Arizona State University	Madison Camelview Elementary School	I plan to continue to volunteer in schools and work with students.
Arizona State University	Sunland School, iTeachAZ	I plan on continuing to serve my community by providing English lessons and support to immigrant families in the Valley.
Arizona State University	Campbell Elementary School Valley View Elementary School	I plan on going to Kenya in 2012 to work in an orphanage.
Arizona State University	Balsz Elementary School	After I graduate I plan on working in a Title 1 school to help students in a lower socioeconomic class.	The students that I have worked with are in second grade and the stories that they have told are so sad. I have learned that they really need a stable place to go, and when I teach my classroom is going to be that place.
Arizona State University	Elementary School	I plan on volunteering or working in a special education classroom. I plan on provide a tutoring service to assist struggling students with their studies.	My experience in the Compact Service Corps provided further realization of the power of one-on-one or small group instruction. Struggling students need a smaller student to teacher ratio.
Arizona State University	Stevenson Elementary School, Mesa AZ	I will be teaching 6th grade in a low-income, highly mobile population, majority minority, urban school in Phoenix, AZ.
Arizona State University	Whittier Elementary	I am going to continue student teaching next semester, and after graduating I plan to work in a Title I elementary school as a general or special education teacher.	Not only was this experience fulfilling from an educational standpoint, but it was also extremely rewarding to help out the students. I learned about each student and their situation; many students have very difficult home lives. It definitely was not easy by any means, but the reward was worth the effort.
Arizona State University	Mesa High School	I plan on becoming a full-time secondary education English teacher.	After working with the students that I served during my term, I have noticed an improvement in their critical reading and writing skills.
Arizona State University	Arrowhead Elementary	I plan to become a special education teacher and help struggling students succeed in school, which will lower school drop-out rates.	I learned that it is very difficult to keep students engaged in school during subjects that they do not like. I never realized how much timing and overall like/dislikes concerning academic subjects impact the ability to teach.
Arizona State University	Collier Elementary School at Littleton Elementary School District	I plan on continuing to help my community by assisting students in their education by helping with after school tutoring and one-on-one time during class when students are falling behind.	I have learned that students want to learn more and they are available if you provide your time to teach them in class or after school.

Arizona State University	Crockett elementary school	teacher	'don't expect anything you will be surprised'
Arizona State University	Gavilan Peak School	I plan to spend all of my extra time volunteering in classrooms in need.	The students all were very sad when I was leaving for the holiday break.
Arizona State University	Bilingual Education at ASU-Sunland Elementary at Roosevelt School District	I am going to be a teacher so I will be working directly with the community..	The teachers that I am working with do not speak any Spanish, so I help them out a lot by speaking the parents. I see how being bilingual in this community is very valuable.
Arizona State University	Title 1 public school	I plan to both volunteer as well as teach in the future. I have found a passion in teaching and helping the lower income school districts. I plan to teach as a career and volunteer as well when needed.
Arizona State University	ASU iTeach program	I am working with the children and their families in the community and plan to continue by teaching.
Arizona State University	iTeachAZ in the Scottsdale Unified School District	I plan on continuing my service in the community by becoming an educator in a title 1 school and assisting children in building a love for school.	I feel I had a deep impact on the lives of the children I worked with, and completing this service allowed me to really see the passion I have for educating children.
Arizona State University	Garden Lakes Elementary School	I want to teach in either elementary grades or a special education position.	After my service term I was pleased to see the lasting impact I had left on the students. It was the end of my student teaching semester in my Special education class and many of the students could not quite comprehend that I would leaving them and would no longer be their teacher. They kept telling me how much they would miss having me in their class and that they wanted me to come back and teach them again after Christmas break. I am glad that they appreciated me as a teacher and I was able to build that relationship with those students in only an eight week period of time with them in total.
Arizona State University	Brimhall Junior High, & Connolly Middle School	I will volunteer to help tutor students who need extra help in science courses.
Arizona State University	Deer Valley Unified School District	In my teaching career I plan to continue to provide my service to students; by providing additional tutoring, attending after school events, organizing events to continue to support educational needs.	On my last day of my field experience in 5th grade students told me how they could tell I really wanted to be a teacher, and thought I was very patient and supportive of their learning. This taught me that students/kids can always see 'right through' you.
Arizona State University	I-Teach Program, Hohokam Traditional	I plan on becoming a special education teacher after I graduate from the I-Teach program. I plan to teach grades 5th or 6th.	I learned a lot of different techniques to use with the special education students in my classroom that I helped teach. When helping one of my students with writing a letter, it was very inspiring to see them learn how to write one and complete each of the steps of letter writing. After they all learned how to write one, they wanted to write letters to everyone, and we kept a mail box in our room so we could send letters.

Arizona State University	Sierra Verde Elementary School. Special Education Department	I plan on becoming a special education teacher. This way I can help kids become involved in their community in a positive way. I want to be able to help them see their potential in everything they do and how they can contribute to our society.	I have had a great experience in this program. Working with these students has been one of the best things for me.
Arizona State University	Mary Lou Fulton College for Teachers	I'm going to be a teacher in a lower economics area.	I loved working in a Title 1 school. I gained valuable experience.
Arizona State University	Tres Rios Elementary School	I plan on serving my community by volunteering in the classroom until I graduate with my education degree. Once I have my degree I will continue serving my community by becoming a math teacher.	By tacking my hours I realized the amount of time I put into my classroom as a student teacher and how much time I will put in as a full time teacher.
Arizona State University	Mesa Public Schools	I plan on teaching special education in a low income, public neighborhood school.	I saw tremendous growth in a short period of time that most people would not expect from students with their disabilities based on the cooperative teaching model implemented in this program of study.
Arizona State University	Hohokam Traditional School Arizona State University	I plan on volunteering at my own children's schools. This could mean just coming in and helping out during an event or actually teaching the children something by being room mom etc.
Arizona State University	Americorps	I plan on becoming a special education teacher in a low income school.
Arizona State University	Navajo Elementary Title 1 School	I plan to continue volunteer reading with children in schools, they need all the practice that they can get. I plan to do this either after school or outside of school grounds.	My students have taught me so much about life and myself, and the pride that their smiles can give you. I truly have an amazing group of kids that have changed my life for a better.
Arizona State University	Canyon Rim Elementary School	Special Education in a low income school district is my future plan for service to my community.	Seeing the understanding face and the light bulb go off on a student's face is something I love to see as a teacher. AmeriCorps has made this a possible experience for me.
Arizona State University		I plan to teach in a public school.	The impact I made in so many children is priceless.
Arizona State University	Murphy school district	To continue serving the community I plan on having a career in education by becoming a teacher. I hope through this career prospect I am able to make in some students lives who are in a low income area.	I learned there are many situations which occur in schools that the teachers do not have much control over and sometimes they are things the teachers must do because it is asked by the district such as testing and other components.
Arizona State University	Americorps	I plan to continue serving my community by helping those with learning disabilities as well as those in a low income school.	This program opened my eyes to those less fortunate than I am.
Arizona State University	Madison Camelview	I loved working with children, in the future I know I want to work in the education/teaching field; which is where I have the most experience.	At the beginning of the school year I started working one student, she did not know how to write her name, and she did not know any letters or sounds. By the end of the first semester she knew how to write her name and knew all letters and sounds. This experience taught me that it is very important to work hard and be patient to reach your goals.

Arizona State University		I plan to become a public school teacher.
Arizona State University	Sullivan Elementary School	I plan on continuing to work in a Title 1 School district to further my education and in the future as a career.	The program showed me how important it is to provide students in low income areas with great teachers because they have lower funds so they are unable to have as many great resources. The one resource though that I can give is being a great teacher who truly cares about their students.
Arizona State University	Madison Rose Elementary School	I plan to acquire a job teaching in a special education setting once I graduate in December 2012.	I have gained an insurmountable amount of knowledge in the field of teaching in a general education, and special education setting. I have experienced how wonderful it is to get to know all of my students, and watch them grow over the school year.
Arizona State University		I would like to teach over seas one day if at all possible.	I learned alot about myself and others during this experience.
Arizona State University	Gavilan Peak Elementary School	I will continue to feed the homeless in a religious organization. I also do Foster Care for the state of Arizona.
Arizona State University	Canyon Rim Elementary	I will continue to perform volunteer work in addition to serving my community as a dedicated teacher. I will encourage my students to reach for the stars!	My kindergarten students that I helped with math intervention come up and hug me everyday when they see me even though I am not their regular classroom teacher. It makes me feel good that they know who I am and that I truly care about them.
Arizona State University	Roosevelt School District	After I have completed my hours I plan on getting a job in a Title 1 school.	I started offering tutoring for my students in the morning before school and it seemed to be very beneficially for those who came. I started with 9 students in the intensive category in reading and after the last assessment only 2 of them, monolingual Spanish speakers, did not move up.
Arizona State University	Hohokam Elementary School	I have loved my experiences working in a Title 1 school, especially with English Language Learners. I intend to search for a job in education in a similar environment teach PreK-3rd grade.	Having been with my students one full semester, I have seen the difference it makes when children have someone who believes in them--expects them to do their best and holds them to high expectations. They are capable of more than they know, and if someone can help them believe enough in themselves then they can achieve anything.
Arizona State University	AmeriCorps- ASU	After graduating in May I plan to obtain a job in teaching where I will be responsible for teaching my students based on their needs and the standards.	Being able to work in a diverse setting learning how to best support them based on their needs.
Arizona State University	Arizona state university	being a teacher	when things click with students and it was because of you
Arizona State University	Balsz Elementary	I will become a teacher.
Arizona State University	Roosevelt School District	I plan to become a teacher and help the community through educating the youth of the community.	It has taught me many things I will need to be a successful educator, like hands on experiences with educational programs I might work with in the future.

Arizona State University	Scales Technology Academy	I plan to continue serving through two more terms in AmeriCorps before I graduate, and after I graduate, I hope to serve my community through my teaching and through volunteering outside of school to help feed the homeless at a shelter downtown and pack meals for hungry children through an organization in Tempe.	I surveyed my reading intervention group at the end of our time together about what they learned, and one student replied that by setting high goals for her, I made her feel special and helped her believe in herself. This taught me the power of having high expectations for my students, and I can make a difference in how my students view themselves.
Arizona State University		Currently I am serving the community of my school and teaching the needs necessary to ensure my students grow. When I graduate college in Spring 2012 I plan to do more volunteer work within the community and all communities around me.	The AmeriCorps program really gave me a chance to reflect on my months progress as an educator. I was able to locate my weaknesses and strengths within each given month. It really taught me that self-reflection is necessary.
Arizona State University	Madison Park Middle School	I plan to be either a upper level elementary teacher or a middle school teacher; specializing in mathematics or technology.	During parent-teacher conferences, I had a student tell the 7th grade team that she preferred myself in the classroom and prefers to ask me for help, when needed.
Arizona State University	iTeachAZ- student teaching at Navajo Elementary	I plan to become a Title I public school teacher in Arizona.	This is a great experience!
Arizona State university	Mary Lou Fulton teachers college	I plan on substituting mean while I get a teaching position to continue working on my teaching skills.	The joy of seeing a student success is all worth while! A student I work with learned how to do three digit multiplication others were only doing two or one! so I even helped the high needs children!
Arizona State University	El Mirage Elementary	I will be becoming a teacher and that will help me continue to help with my community and students
Arizona State University	iTeach AZ	I want to work in urban schools because that is where I can make the most difference, and that is where I fit best
Arizona State University	Paseo Hills Elementary School	I plan on serving my community through my work as a teacher in the elementary education field.	I am enjoying many successes and learning experiences in my classroom. These experiences will serve me well in the future.
Arizona State University	I served a title I school as a science teacher	I plan on being an active member in my community by volunteering at community events and entering the service of teaching.	I have had a very enjoyable time getting to know the students in my class and understanding them.
Arizona State University	AmeriCorps	I plan on possibly working at a University to help students in choosing a career they want to pursue.	I really enjoyed the support of fellow classmates also in the Americorps program. It taught me that there are plenty of individuals who enjoy the same experience and love for children that I enjoy.
Arizona State University	AmeriCorps	I am going to continue working with AmeriCorps.	Volunteering with AmeriCorps has made me more aware of what I want to do for my career.
Arizona State University		Special Education Teacher	I learned how to be more involved in my schools' community.
Arizona state university	iteachAZ	I would like to work through a title 1 school

Arizona State University	iTeachAZ Navajo Elementary School	I plan to continue serving my community by becoming an elementary school teacher. Young children need a quality education and a role model. I plan to give them both through my career.	One second grade student I have worked with is generally a very angry child. He rarely does his work and constantly claims how unhappy he is. I began working with this student one-on-one and gave him more challenging books and math problems to work with. He is a very gifted student. Although boredom might not be the only cause for his attitude, when I treated him as though he was older and gave him work that was generated for older students he was more motivated to complete it.
Arizona State University	elementary school--superstition springs	I will always be an active volunteer in the educational field.	I learned to always research new strategies to implement in the classroom so students with learning disabilities achieve their highest potential in the classroom.
Arizona State University		I plan on starting a career in special education.
Arizona State University	Collier Elementary in the Littleton School District in Avondale, AZ	I plan on being involved in the school I teach at to encourage academic and extracurricular activities for the community I will teach.	To persevere and to teach my students to never give up because they can achieve anything.
Arizona State University	Collier elementary school	I plan on becoming a teacher in about five months.	I have helped students improve their math understanding through one-on-one assistance and after school tutoring.
Arizona State University	Echo Mountain Primary Elementary School	Becoming a resource teacher at a Title-1 school
Arizona State University	Phoenix Elementary School District	I plan on teaching in a low income school district.	I have learned lots this last term, I understand the importance of installing the depth and complexity of education with our youth for a better future.
Arizona State University	Littleton Elementary School Littleton School District Avondale Arizona	I want to help young students develop a passion for life-long learning and inspire them to appreciate diversity.	Do not assume that a child speaks Spanish because they look Hispanic. A child I thought was of Hispanic descent was from Hawaii. I learned to never assume; treat each person as an individual.
Arizona State University	Tres Rios Elementary School	I plan on educating our future generations	It may be difficult and stressful at times being a teacher, but the results of a child learning makes it all worth it
Arizona State University	Skyline High School	I plan to teach science, which is a high-need field of study, in a Title 1 school.	I have been able to teach biology in a Title 1 school this semester. I have enjoyed teaching, but I also enjoy tutoring students who need extra help either before or after school.
Arizona State University	Scales Technology Academy	I plan to become an elementary school teacher and I also plan to volunteer within non-profit organizations as much as possible.
Arizona State University	I am student teaching in the Murphy District. The school I am serving my work is at Hamilton Elementary.	I plan on applying for a teaching position in a private school.	The experience has taught me that some schools may not have all the resources but it does not stop you from students learning.

Arizona State University	Title 1 Elementary School	I plan on teaching in a low income school in order to have an impact on my students since I am also a minority. I also plan on trying to start an adult English class to help them learn English and become familiar with their children's school.	I have just finished completing teaching my first math unit and 90% of my students passed their assessment. I learned to always plan and keep a positive attitude even if you feel the students aren't understanding the content.
Arizona State University	Americorps	I plan to get a job in education in a Title I school here in Arizona to work with special needs students.
Arizona State University	C.O. Greenfield Elementary School C.J. Jorgensen Elementary School	I plan to teach special education in the future as a career	When children have no one to believe in them they can take two different views of the future: my life is going no where or I'll do what ever it takes to get somewhere
Arizona State University	Whittier School	I will graduate with a degree in Special Education on May 5. I plan to work in this field with students and families with a low socio economic status.	It was very enlightening to see so many parents involved with their children. This was in direct contrast to the stereotype that parents are not involved with their children in urban schools.
Arizona State University	Crockett Elementary	I would like to teach within a low SEI community.
Arizona State University	Murphy School District	Teaching in low income public schools
Arizona State University	Mendoza Elementary School	Education-teacher.	I gained experience in the field that I hope to pursue in the future.
Arizona State University	Haley Elementary School	I plan on becoming a special education teacher, and serving the community through teaching students with autism, and other various special needs.	I cannot think of one specific story, but my entire time serving has been fun and exciting time. I learned so much about the children I served and how to deal with their learning and behaviors. The kids are so funny and quirky and it made my time so fun.
Arizona State University	ASU iTeach	Helping bring together communities with the thought of the environment around us and how it should be treated.
Arizona State University	iTeachAZ	Using my education degree to teach elementary school.	n/a
Arizona State University	Murphy school district	I plan on helping students with their schooling	How to serve students and the importance
Arizona State University	Murphy School District	teaching sub teaching tutoring	I thought this was a great experience and I am glad I got to be active in my community.
Arizona State University	Mirage Elementary	I plan on teaching for my career
Arizona State University	Madison Camelview School	I plan to teach in a public school once I graduate.
Arizona State University	Mesquite Junior High School	I intend to continue to work with AmeriCorps for through May 2012. I will be awarded an MEd in summer 2012. I intend to continue to teach in the high needs area of science. I will also continue to volunteer with the Boy Scouts and other community and faith based organizations.
Arizona State University	Andersen Elementary	I plan to start a career in the field of education and will volunteer my services to advocate for students with special needs, especially those with Autism Spectrum Disorders.	My student teaching experience was an invaluable experience! I was able to learn and grow in my teaching abilities while providing support and guidance to at-risk students.

Arizona State University	Cactus View Elementary, Palomino Elementary, Arrowhead Elementary, Sunset Canyon Elementary	I plan to be a teacher in title one schools servicing low income students. I will provide opportunities for students and families to be successful	My participation in low income schools taught me how important education is for the students in these areas. I developed a love for working with these students and their families and hope to continue to work in Title One schools
Arizona State University	Hohokam Elementary School	I plan to continue working with students in special education in Title I school.	The Compact Service Corps Americorps program gave the opportunity to interact with students that needed extra support. I learned that some individual need an extra hand to become confident and trust himself or herself. I have notes from some of my students where they express their appreciation and the interest of another adult in their education. They used phrases like, 'You believe in me.'
Arizona State University	Rhodes Jr. High School	I plan on teaching students and helping them to reach their full potential through involving them in the educational experience.
Arizona State University	Dysart Unified School District	I plan to stay in my current district upon graduation, helping the economically disadvantaged to have the same opportunity, educationally as those who have better financial opportunities.	I have been given an opportunity to work along side some incredible people with a passion for teaching I can only hope to maintain through the years. I have found a love of teaching underprivileged children and plan to make it my life work to change the academic outcome of those who struggle.
Arizona State University	Scales Technology Academy	I plan to become a teacher once I graduate, and that is a career based entirely on service. I will continue to serve my students, their families, and the community throughout my entire career. I also plan to volunteer in my free time and will continue to serve those in need for the rest of my life.	One of my students was labeled as one of the big behavior problems of the class. One time while I was teaching, I chose to praise his efforts instead of inflicting negative consequences. His demeanor immediately changed. He was more focused and did not disrupt the lesson the entire time. This taught me how much more I will get from my students and how much behavior issues will be minimized if I focus on the positive.
Arizona State University	ASU, Chandler Unified School District	I plan on continuing my student teaching at Haley elementary	I learned that sometimes you need to be tough on students. Even when you are tough on them, they will still respect you as long as you respect them.
Arizona State University	William C. Jack	I plan to stay in a low SES area school upon graduation. I love the students, and the environment. I feel as though I have found my calling.
Arizona State University	Hohokam Traditional skills	I plan on being a first grade teacher and I will serve my community through that position.
Arizona State University	iTeachAZ	I plan on continuing to serve my community by educating children and doing what I can to help them, and their families, to be successful.	I felt a strong sense of community by participating in the Americorps program and felt I had a very strong impact on the students I worked with, as well as their families.
Arizona State University	William C. Jack Elementary	As a teacher I will be serving the community as I help educate my students through teaching culturally relevant lessons.	n/a
Arizona State University	AmeriCorps	This May I will be receiving my Education degree which I plan to use in an Elementary School and help assist students in achieving their goals and reaching their dreams.	I think AmeriCorps is a wonderful program that assists college students in obtaining their own college degree which in returns opens the eyes of many to see what help our communities need.

Arizona State University	Orangedale Jr. High Prep Academy	I will possibly become an art teacher and plan on eventually doing service/missions work overseas.	I learned how to be an effective communicator to a variety of age groups. I improved my social skills and learned that a few words can truly impact a child.
Arizona State University	Americorps	I plan on becoming a teacher once I graduate college, my goal is to teach in the field of special education.	When I learned how to subtract it was called borrowing, now it is known as regrouping. I learned that in the field of education it is always changing and I need to be on my toes ready for anything.
Arizona State University	iTeachAZ	I have already made plans to work in an orphanage in Kenya, Africa for the fall of 2012.
Arizona State University	Student teaching in the Chandler Unified School District along with my student teaching course, and two other courses.	In the future, through volunteerism, I plan on continuing to student teach in a special education classroom setting along with a general education classroom setting. In my future, through my career I wish to work with children through a hospital setting by helping them with either school or tutoring.	Through my experience in the Compact Service Corps AmeriCorps program I was able to be in a setting that handled children with Autism. I learned that I loved to be around these children and to help them in any way that I can. I enjoy being taught by them everyday by having them show me how much they really do actually know along with me teaching them even maybe just a little bit everyday.
Arizona State University	Westwind Primary Elementary School	Community initiatives to improve relationships with local school.
Arizona State University	I served through the Glendale Elem. School District at Don Mensendick School as part of my student teaching.	I plan on continuing serving in my community by becoming a teacher where I have been serving.	I thought that it was a simple process to do and very beneficial to my professional development.
Arizona State University	Mary Lou Fulton Teacher's College at Arizona State University Mensendick Elementary School in the Glendale School District	I plan to continue student teaching through to December of 2012, at which time I will graduate and teach Special Education in a low-income school within the district I am currently serving at.
Arizona State University	Title 1 Elementary School in Phoenix, Arizona	Education within the Title 1 school system	n/a
Arizona State University	Arizona State University, iTeach Avondale, Michael Anderson Elementary School	I am going to continue my service until December when my time in the iTeach AZ program is over and I graduate. Then I plan on continuing that through my future career.	Being a Caucasian female, walking into a 3rd grade class of 30 ELL students was frightening. After spending time with the students and realizing how much of a mentor I was to them, I was more and more excited to go back each day. This excitement goes to show that I chose the right career path for my future!
Arizona State University	P.T. Coe Elementary School	In the future, I plan on working in schools in low socioeconomic areas where highly skilled teachers are in great need.	While working in an inner-city school this semester, I gained a deeper knowledge of the challenges my students are up against in their daily lives. This only further encouraged me to work with these students to help them achieve their personal best.

Arizona State University	Horseshoe Trails Elementary School	I will always be serving my community because I am pursuing a degree in education. I will always be working with people directly in the community and will continue to serve them.	The students taught me that it is important to be their friend as well as their teacher. They are more cooperative and they see you as a person instead of someone who just bosses them around.
Arizona State University	Whittier Elementary - Phoenix Elementary School District	I plan to become a professional teacher in an urban community.
Arizona State University	Mesa School District and Rhodes Junior High	I student teach at a Title I school for another five months.	I learned that this next generation of youth does have the capacity to learn and contribute to our society.
Arizona State University		I am working as a third grade teacher in a Title One school in 2012-13. I plan to continue serving my school community by establishing school-wide events on campus.	One great opportunity I had was to plan and execute a school-wide Read Across America event. I spent much of my time outside of school preparing for the event. On the big day, members of our community, district office and business professionals came to share their love of literacy with our students. It was a great chance to gain leadership skills and be a part of a literacy push on our campus.
Arizona State University	Mirage Elementary School	For my future career, I am going into the field of education. I feel this career gives multiple opportunities to give back to the community. I want my students to be respectful citizens that will take ownership in their learning. By having students track and set goals on their learning, this will help students to set personal goals to help in their academic success.
Arizona State University	Deer Valley Unified School District	My future plans include gaining a career in the education field.	The sense of satisfaction and accomplishment I have experienced in school has been made possible by the Compact Service Corps.
Arizona State University	Patterson Elementary	I will be volunteering with my child's classroom when he enters school, and I am now currently volunteering at my church with the special needs Sunday school that they offer.
Arizona State University	Kuban Elementary School	I plan to work in schools and help children reach their full potential.
Arizona State University	Anthem School	I plan to continue serving my community as a public school teacher. I hope to instill in my students a passion for serving others through projects with a community focus.
Arizona State University	Pendergast Unified School District	I plan on working with organizations to provide clean water for communities around the world that are suffering from diseases caused by unclean water.	Teaching children is one of the biggest blessings in the world.
Arizona State University	Osborn School District	I am going to be teaching in a high needs Title 1 district.
Arizona State University	Americorps	I plan to work in an early childhood classroom and pursue my masters in a education related field.

Arizona State University	Alfred Garcia Elementary School	In the future, I intend on serving low-income communities like the one I am currently in. It is my goal to be a middle-school math teacher in a title I school and work with students and their families.	Mainly, my time spent in the classroom working with students has allowed me to use what I have learned in my college courses and apply it directly in the classroom. Doing this has given me the opportunity to gain experience in the field of education and has strengthened my passion for teaching. Working with students and understanding the challenges and struggles they bring to the classroom will better prepare me in dealing with my own students one day. Overall, it has been a positive and uplifting experience to see the growth in my students and know that I played a role in their triumphs.
Arizona State University	High school	I plan on a career in math education and volunteering at churches and non-profits.
Arizona State University	Ishikawa Elementary School	I plan on continuing to serve my community through another term with AmeriCorps while I finish my year long student teaching assignment. After finishing my commitment to student teaching, I plan to obtain a full-time position serving students in low SES areas.
Arizona State University	Title one School	I plan to pursue a career in the Glendale Elementary School District.	Managing students behavior is a crucial piece to running an effective classroom.
Arizona State University	Canyon Rim Elementary	I am always looking for placing I can volunteer. In the future I will continue to serve my community within the schools.	One of my student was having difficulty at home and they dinners brought in. I signed up for two dinners and will never forget my student's face when she saw it was me bringing in dinner.
Arizona State University	Campbell Elementary School, C.O. Greenfield Elementary School	I plan to educate students from diverse backgrounds on a variety of subject areas necessary for them to succeed in life and in their immediate community.	I taught reading and math to students with behavioral students. Previously, they had a teacher who quit because my students' behaviors were extreme--- fighting, cursing, threatening peers/adults, etc. I found out on the first day in the class that the students had not received any academics for nearly a semester--4 months, because the teacher had students watch movies every single day to avoid confrontation. So when I met my students, they were barely reading at a preprimer reading level. In the six weeks that I worked with them, and at only 15 min. a day, and they were reading above the primer reading level.
Arizona State University	Arizona State University West	I plan on further serving the community in the future through a career of teaching (Early Childhood Education).	I have learned that hard work gets you were you want and really helps you to grow as a person and learn so much through hands-on experiences.
Arizona State University	Eliseo C. Felix Elementary School	I plan to support the school that I am employed at with whatever activities they have or support their students any way I can.
Arizona State University	Americorps	I will continue to serve my community in the future by teaching 7th Grade Language Arts at a public middle school.
Arizona State University	Shumway Elementary	I want to be a special education teacher for first graders.

Arizona State University	ITeach AZ	I have always felt a desire to help sick children. I plan on returning to my volunteer job at the hospital in the NICU, which I quit while student teaching.
Arizona State University	Balsz Elementary	I am going to be a teacher and work at an elementary school. I still want to volunteer with children maybe in the summers.	I had an amazing time working with the children at the elementary school. It was amazing getting to see them learn to write words and sentences and do math. They learned so much in the little amount of time I was there.
Arizona State University	Magnet Traditional School and Faith North Montessori School	I plan to continue servicing students in low socioeconomic status schools to help them in their educational goals.
Arizona State University	Patterson Elementary and Irving elementary	I will be a teacher, which I feel is a career of service. I will also volunteer as much as possible in my school to help students in academic extracurricular activities.	I spent so much time helping so many children. It taught me to stay positive and persistent and I can really help the students.
Arizona State University	iTeach at Osborn School District	I plan on becoming a teacher in a high needs school.	I learned that there are so many students at these low income schools that need to see that the world is a bright place and that they can do anything.
Arizona State University		I hope to one day volunteer and be part of a youth ministry.
Arizona State University	Americorps	I plan to continue teaching second grade at the same school in the same classroom in the fall.	I have learned how to teach inquiry lessons to children by using hands on activities.
Arizona State University	Arthur M. Hamilton Elementary	I'm planning on being a elementary teacher after I graduate from college.	I was able to experienced what a full school year is like for a teacher.
Arizona State University	Gilbert Unified School District (SSE)	I will be continuing my service by working one on one with Autistic individuals within their homes.	I learned to be patient and go with the flow. Being overly schedule can be a bad thing as much as it can be a good thing.
Arizona State University	Osborn School District	I plan to devote my career as a teacher in title 1 schools, where teachers are needed to help educate students in low income areas.	Working with the community and seeing these children's parents and situations solidified for me the importance of not only being a teacher, or educator to students in low income schools, but also I discovered the importance of being a role model, a nurturing friend, and resource for students. I am the one who can help these students feel like they can be capable of anything, and that I am always going to be there to guide them.

Arizona State University	Paseo Hills Elementary	I plan on pursuing a career in education	Compact Service Corps helped to provide me with the opportunity to serve students in the classroom and this gave me the experience necessary to improve my teaching.
Arizona State University	Dysart Elementary School	My educational goals include service to the community with continued outreach and individualized/differentiated instruction in my classroom. I hope to be able to reach the population of students who are not known to excel and help them to achieve success.	You cannot control children's actions, but you can improve their overall outlook by building relationships.
Arizona State University	Glendale American Elementary School	In the future I plan on volunteering through Americorps at another public school in the Glendale School District and volunteer in the healthcare field with children with disabilities.	My experience through the Americorps program was extremely beneficial to my career as a teacher. I learned so many different ways to work with students, especially students with specific learning disabilities in the general education classroom.
Arizona State University	V. H. Lassen Elementary School	I am currently applying to become an elementary teacher and teach those students that are located in a high poverty low income school.	In a science unit I taught I was able to get 23 out of 24 students meeting (80% or above) on their final science exam!
Arizona State University	Michael Anderson Elementary School	There is a lot of work to be done as a volunteer that would be helpful to the community I am serving.	I had to work with some special needs students in our classroom and it has given me a new understanding of the importance of being a well prepared teacher.
Arizona State University	Americorps	I am planning on getting a job in special education.
Arizona State University	Americorps	I plan on continuing to volunteer through school activity and/or community events.	A student told me that I was the best student teacher ever, and she wished I was teaching the following year's grade, so I could be her teacher.
Arizona State University	Paradise Valley Unified School District	I plan on continuing with my education to become a Special Education teacher. I also plan on working in the state of Arizona in Title 1 or rural schools.	I was able to create relationships with my placement teachers and I found a love of teaching. I enjoyed being in classrooms and helping students reach a goal for the day. Whether that goal be academic, social, or behaviorally. I now realize that I can impact student's lives and that is both scary and great. I have more confidence in myself to become a great teacher.
Arizona State University	I served with ASU's iTeach program at Glendale American Elementary School in the Glendale Elementary School District.	I will continue serving my community through student teaching in a title 1 school where the students do not have the resources provided at other schools. I will also pursue a career at a school where I will help my students be the best they can be.	Being in the classroom taught me a lot about being a teacher. I learned that no matter how bad a day may seem, it is always worth it to see a student succeed in the end. Teaching is a struggle for both students and teachers, but by working together, anything is possible.
Arizona State University	Highland Lakes School	I plan to serve my community by educating the children of the community.	I worked with struggling math students and it taught me that teaching investment will help students in their academics.

Arizona State University	Student teaching	I plan on teaching students in title I elementary schools to help them become responsible, intelligent individuals.	I remember the first day when I started working with the students, all of them lacked confidence and had low reading scores. When I left, the students overwhelmed me with their confidence and excitement to learn. This experience taught me that having patience and faith in students can go a long way in what and how much they achieve.
Arizona State University	V.H. Lassen Elementary School	Teaching in a low-income public school and tutoring	It was a great experience and I'm grateful I had the support of professors, coordinators, and colleagues during my year of student teaching.
Arizona State University	CTA - Independence elementary	I plan on working in the educational field in either a kindergarten class or first grade general education classroom.
Arizona State University	it each	I plan on working in Africa in August, 2012 - through a church, I will work with orphaned children by creating a 'winter' camp
Arizona State University	Student taught at a title 1 elementary school, Mitchell Elementary, in Phoenix	After I graduate I plan on looking for a job to teach at a title 1 elementary school.
Arizona State University		I am teaching at a low-income school in Arizona.	I had the opportunity to positively impact the lives of students that were in low-income schools. I grew as a professional and person through the AmeriCorps service.
Arizona State University	Sunset Ridge Elementary School	I have currently accepted a third grade teaching position in a low income community
Arizona State University	Willis Junior High School	I will be serving at Willis Junior High School for another semester as a special education teacher to both seventh and eighth graders.
Arizona State University	Mirage Elementary	I plan to volunteer to feed the hungry, and help students who need extra help.
Arizona State University	Hamilton High School - Chandler Unified School District	I will begin teaching in the fall in a high need subject area. I will also volunteer in boy scouts, faith based community, and in non-profit community groups.
Arizona State University	Osborn School District and iTeach program	I plan on becoming a full time teacher in a low income school to better assist their needs.	I heard lots of sad stories from the kids but that never stopped them from smiling our giving me a hug.
Arizona State University	Osborn InMac partnership with the Osborn School District	I would like to continue as a teacher in a Title I district and volunteer to help with environmental and social issues.
Arizona State University	Rhodes Junior High School	I plan on continuing to shape young minds through teaching them and helping them to develop skills that will help them to function within society.
Arizona State University	Schools in the Osborn School District	Provide additional assistance to English Language Learners and those struggling with academic content

Arizona State University	Madison Heights Elementary	As I begin to raise my own family I plan to participate in my children's classrooms, as well as around their school.	I now understand the importance of preschool as a prerequisite to Kindergarten and hope to open a preschool after my children have all entered school.
Arizona State University	MaryLou Fulton Teachers College	The most personal way I plan on serving my community in the future is helping out at my children's school. I do not have children yet, and although I am pursuing a degree in education myself, I see the importance of volunteering at your child's (or family members, neighbors, etc.) school. The impact is not only invaluable to the child, but also to the other children, the school, and the community as a whole. The children are our future, and we need to spend the time now, to help prepare them.	The most pertinent thing that this term in the program has taught me is that I do belong in this field of education. It is absolutely exhausting, but I wake up happy to go to school and see my kiddos. They love you endlessly, and you can make such a huge difference in their life so easily. It's very hard to explain, but I'm at home and so very happy in the classroom.
Arizona State University		I will continue to volunteer through the community activities through the school.	It really allowed me to see a title one school and how the demographics are so much different from the internships that I have completed so far.
Arizona State University		In the future I plan to continue serving my community by educating students in low income/ high poverty areas.	Being apart of this program has given me a real insight into what I am capable of doing and how helpful it is to spend so much time in the classroom before I graduate.
Arizona State University	iTeachAZ	I plan on becoming a teacher in a Title One school so that I can greatly impact the students and families in the community. I hope to accomplish this by being a positive, encouraging, and ambitious figure in the classroom.	Today I participated in a Student Study Team in which I met with other school specialists to discuss possible supports and testing the school can offer to a struggling student. I have been personally working with this student, and it has been hard to watch her 'drown' in third grade content. I've learned to modify lessons to meet her needs and support her learning. My hope is that through the identification of her needs, she can receive more school support.
Arizona State University	Hohokam Traditional Elementary School and Navajo Elementary School	I plan to become an Elementary teacher so I can better the lives of the future. I hope to help students strive in the classroom and outside the classroom at home with their families. I want to help students succeed with homework and teach them to read and write.	I taught students how to read and write which is not an easy skill. I made lesson plans and conducted them in my classroom.
Arizona State University	Iteach AZ at Hohokam traditional	providing a better education to the community is how I plan on serving.	They have taught me how beneficial it is to volunteer.
Arizona State University	Early Childhood Education Program (Mary Lou Fulton College ASU)	The plans I have in the future to have an impact in my community are to continue advocating for children. I plan to continue working in the field of education and assist tittle one schools.
Arizona State University	Valley View School	I plan to get a job teaching at an Elementary School here in Phoenix.	The students that I have been working with in my small group have become more on task and are starting to enjoy doing school work more. I have discovered that they just needed some more one-on-one attention to get to a comfortable place with their school work!

Arizona State University	Special Education	I plan on becoming a Special Education teacher in the future. by pursuing this life path I will be able to make an impact in students in their youth and for the rest of their lives. I will be able to help students reach their full potential as humans and contribute to the surrounding community.	Being with students who have special needs four times a week, has taught me to look at life with a thankful and hopeful attitude. I work with students who are unable to read, write, perform math problems, and will be very limited in what they do in the future. Even though all of these things are against them they still find ways to be joyful and make me laugh. When I see this example, of students 14 years younger than me, I am humbled and try to better my self by having a better stress free attitude.
Arizona State University	N/A	I plan on serving my community in the future by becoming and educator in my own elementary classroom. By becoming a teacher I am going to support and improve the educational experience for children and provide them with the opportunities to succeed both inside and outside the classroom.	Through this experience I have learned that as a teacher you are not only affecting and improving the students in your classroom but also the community. By providing the students with the learning tools needed to succeed you are also giving them opportunities to impact their environment. Giving students the educational experience they deserve allows them to follow their dreams and shape their community to be more intellectual and successful.
Arizona State University	El Mirage Elementary School	I plan on serving as a teacher in a low community.	In working with my small group, I helped to shape their negative mindsets into a positive belief in their ability to succeed.
Arizona State University	Hohokam Tradition/Elementary School	I plan to continue serving my community in the future by volunteering at a retirement home or in the local hospital. I enjoy working with people and I hope to create special connections and learn valuable skills during this time.	At the beginning of the year it was tough teaching 5 year olds how to read and write. But it is now the beginning of January and there has been incredible growth. It has truly been an experience teaching students who know nothing, who now know how to write full sentences and read short books. Its truly amazing!
Arizona State University	Camelview Elementary School	I would like to volunteer for organizations that provide free services for children like the Boy's and Girl's Club. I want to volunteer in the future to do things that will continue to benefit our future generations.	The one on one time that I had with every student I worked with was extremely beneficial to their self growth. I loved how excited the math group had been when they achieved successful use of efficient second grade strategies. It was just as amazing to see my reading group's faces light up because they got one to two steps closer to being on grade level. As for the students who received enrichment, it was such a great wonder to watch them discover how greatly they could really challenge themselves.
Arizona State University	V. H. Lassen Elementary School	In May 2012 when I graduate I plan on pursuing a career as a k-6th elementary school teacher in Arizona.	Overall I enjoyed this experienced and really like working one on one with students and helping them succeed.
Arizona State University	El Mirage Elementary	I will pursue a career of service as I enter the teaching profession.
Arizona State University	Discovery School	I plan on serving the community by continuing working with underprivileged children in a title 1 school.	I have had a great experience with AmeriCorps and will continue serving with them as I continue my education.

Arizona State University	Valley View Elementary School	I plan on becoming a middle school teacher in the 2012-2013 school year.	I was struggling with classroom management and I had a student throw a chair and start yelling at me. I was shocked and I didn't know what to do or what had triggered his reaction. After spending some time reflecting I realized that I hadn't given him enough options and he was feeling cornered by me. I know now that I need to be more vague when handling misbehavior and give the students options
Arizona State University	AmeriCorps	Volunteer with under privileged children.
Arizona State University	Camelview Elementary School	I plan on getting a full time teaching job once my student teaching is complete. I will be providing similar services as I did through volunteering in Americorps.	It has taught me that I can give such valuable time to my students that can really benefit them in the long run.
Arizona State University	Mirage Elementary School	I plan to have a career in teaching elementary grade students.
Arizona State University	El Mirage Elementary School	I plan to be a first grader teachers and positively influence my students and their families.
Arizona State University	TAP	I would like to continue to teach in a title I school to help students who are in need.
Arizona State University	it each AZ through Arizona State University	I plan to continue to volunteer within the Avondale community alongside to the Americorps program and eventually peruse a career as an educator in the state of Arizona.	I have encountered many struggles this past semester in regards to managing student behavior. Coming into the program this semester, that was my area of refinement. The many hours spent in the classroom with students allowed me to understand how to improve in this area which I am extremely grateful for to better prepare me when I do have a career as an educator.
Arizona State University	Esperanza Elementary School	In the future, I plan on becoming a teacher in a title 1 district. Helping out in a district such as this has opened my eyes made me realize how much these students need from teachers. I plan on helping students and guiding them on right paths.	This program has taught me that many students want to learn just do not know how. Most students in my district love coming to school and want to become successful but do not have the materials to do so. This program taught me to become patient and open my eyes to each student as an individual because is child learns, thinks, acts differently. Each child needs something different to be capable of success.
Arizona State University	Hohokam Traditional School	I plan to continue serving my community through a career in teaching which will not only help students do their best and succeed but do well for the community as a whole.	I learned that kids are funny. They don't take things seriously and neither should adults (some things that is). If I made an error or over spoke myself, the kids would correct me and move on. No matter what they love you and they want to learn. I'm going to miss my students so much.
Arizona State University	ITeachAZ Pendergast	I plan on working at low income schools to help students reach their full potential.
Arizona State University	Esperanza Elementary School	I will be teaching second grade next year and will continue to support the students and the community.	This program taught me to always give back to the community by mating connections with students, parents and other members of the community. By showing people you case and providing support it will help the students succeed and have goals to accomplish.

Arizona State University	Solano Elementary School Osborn School District	I plan to teach in the primary grades in the community around my house.	Complete your paperwork on time.
Arizona State University	Discovery School	I plan on servicing the community by becoming a teacher in a public school	I have learned leadership and awareness of need
Arizona State University	AmeriCorps- cesar Chavez elementary school southwest junior high Gadsden elementary school	I plan to design plans for small groups which have trouble meeting the objectives required in class or by the school
Arizona State University	Arizona State University	I plan to continue working in the school area.	This program is a great opportunity to learn the theory in the classroom and then going to the classroom and applying it. It has been an amazing experience.
Arizona State University	Westwood Elementary School	I plan on becoming a teacher. In taking on this role I will be a provider, friend, and educator for myriads of kids. I will continue to serve my students with anything that they, or I feel is necessary and beneficial to them!	My most cherished memory thus far is about a student named Dejavon. Dejavon falls far below a third grade level. He struggles with reading and writing; however, school councilors' have agreed teachers can modify his work. With this said, I sat with Dejavon during a writing activity. He was unable to read the directions for this activity. He is also very limited in his writing skills. Not only did I read the directions to Dejavon, I pulled up a chair next to his desk to assist him with spelling. As I pulled up a chair he asked, 'Ms. Michael, your going to stay here?' I said, 'Yes Dejavon, I will help you.' His face lit up! After the day of the writing project I had a note on my desk. The letter (written in his best hand-writing and possible spelling) said, 'Ms. Michael, no one ever has wanted to help me. You are the best teacher ever. I love you.' -Dejavon
Arizona State University	The organizations with which I served was direct service (teaching) in a public school and assisting with a group of students or individual students on reading.	I plan on continuing my service in the community by teaching in a public school next year.	It was very helpful to be able to list experiences that were not going well throughout the semester for each month.
Arizona State University	Park Meadows Elementary School	I plan on continuing volunteering throughout the rest of the academic school year. After I graduate in May I will be a Special Education teacher.

Arizona State University	Murphy School District	As a classroom teacher, I will continue to serve the community each year as I encounter new students and their families.	The student that sticks with me the most is a 4th grade boy who came into our classroom from another school, and was unknowingly reading at about a 1st grade level. My mentor teacher and I were able to see him struggling, assess his level and begin to provide extra instruction and support for him. Seeing my teacher take the initiative with this student, and see the process she took in helping him was very beneficial for me. Because of her help, he is now progressing rapidly and well on his way to catching up.
Arizona State University	Hillcrest Middle School	Working in a public school teaching children 1st grade through 8th grade.
Arizona State University	ASU Preparatory Academy Middle School	I plan on teaching full time.	Students came and told me I was the best teacher they had ever had and hoped I would return next year.
Arizona State University	ASU Preparatory Academy	Teach full time	Students told me they hoped I would return next year as a full time teacher
Arizona State University	ASU Preparatory Academy	I plan on getting a job as a full time teacher and volunteering in a faith based position.	I had parents comment just recently how I have affected their students in a positive way and they hope that I obtain a full time teaching position at the school.
Arizona State University	Superstition Springs Elementary	I plan on becoming a Special Needs Teacher.	I learned to always do my best and dedicate myself fully to helping my students accomplish their goals
Arizona State University	Copper Trails Elementary	I plan on doing another term with this organization.
Arizona State University	iTeach	Extra-curricular activities	AmeriCorps has been a great program that taught me so much about how to educate students.
Arizona State University	Scales Elementary	I plan to teach at an elementary school and design my own class for children's creative development.
Arizona State University	AmeriCorps I-Teach AZ	More small group instruction, larger group instructions, comprehension, science lessons, and social study lessons
Arizona State University	I worked in the Avondale school district.	I love helping other people. I feel so good to make others happy. I would like to volunteer in my mother in law's 1st grade classroom. I would like to help because I know how busy she is with all of the work she has to do. I would also like to volunteer in my sister in law's 1st grade classroom.	Working with young people is such a rewarding experience. I've learned that when students can get one on one help with an adult they are capable of mastering the content.
Arizona State University	Gadsden School district	Since I will graduate with an elementary education degree, I plan to continue being a facilitator for rural are students.	In personal, I just love to be around kids and this experience help me determine on the career I am taking.
Arizona State University	Discovery Elementary	After this fall semester I will be graduating with my bachelors in elementary and special education. I will use this in my future to continue to help students learn and become ready for 'the real world'.	This has been truly a great experience. I had my run in a special education classroom and it really opened my eyes to many possibilities in that field. I loved my kids unconditionally and I don't think I'd enjoy any other career the way I do teaching.

Arizona State University	DVUSD Gavilan Peak School	I will continue to donate my time and efforts being an effective girl scout leader. I will also eventually begin my career as an educator that will always be paying the community in education.	I have really enjoyed this hands on experience. I have learned that there is a time to be tough and a time to be flexible, but never a time to be weak.
Arizona State University	iTeach AZ El Mirage School	I will be able to continue serving the children and families in my community in the future through my teaching career. I hope to touch the lives of many children and do everything I can to help them and their families.	Through this semester I worked with a small group of struggling readers. We set goals for the students that they would grow on the DRA at the end of the semester. All of the students exceeded their goal and most of them are almost to grade level on their reading.
Arizona State University	Sierra Verde Elementary School	I plan to continue serving my community through teaching reading which will positively impact the entire community.	I have experienced, learning is noisy, messy, and unpredictable.
Arizona State University	iTeachAZ AmeriCorps	I will help the community by helping at-risk students see a brighter future in yourself.	There is this one student at our school who was always late for catching the bus, so my mentor told him what it would take for him to get out there on time and he quickly replied 'some food'. So she made a deal for whenever he gets out there on time she will give him one of her extra snacks. I only recently found out that he was a homeless student and that his mom went to one of the two battered women's shelters near our school. It touched my heart deeply, at how caring my mentor is.
Arizona State University	Michael Anderson Elementary School	I will be continuing my service at Michael Anderson School in the hopes of getting a job in the district when I am done.	We had one ED student that I was very nervous about teaching due to his past record, but he has turned out to be our biggest success story. If you knew him a year ago, you wouldn't even recognize him today.
Arizona State University	Stetson Hills Elementary School	I plan to become a special education teacher so I can reach the students who many people believe are unreachable.
Arizona State University	Stetson Hills Elementary School in the Deer Valley Unified School District	I plan to continue volunteering my time through student teaching every day all through May, working with students with special needs.
Arizona State University	Stetson Hills School	In the Fall 2012 I will be a special education teacher, helping students with their individual needs to experience success in school
Arizona State University	Stetson Hills School	My career of service is teaching
Arizona State University	Park Meadows Elementary and Sierra Verde Elementary	I would like to teach English over seas.

Arizona State University	Alfred F. Garcia Elementary School	I plan on graduating and receiving my Bachelor degree in Education. I plan to work in a low social economic school to help the students and their parents.	While I was in the AmeriCorps program I was in a classroom and I got to work with five students. I helped those five students improve their mathematics scores because the students were having trouble with their times tables. I liked working with the students and I learned new ways to teach mathematics.
Arizona State University	Discovery Elementary School	I plan to volunteer as a student teacher	I learned it is important to build a strong partnership with your mentor teacher in order to enhance student achievement and connectedness in the classroom.
Arizona State University	Discovery Elementary School, Arizona State University West Campus	In the future, I plan to become a world famous teacher and impact students in low-income schools in high need fields.	My experience in this program thus far has been successful and I really love the fact that I am able to perform volunteer service while also doing a service for students in low-income areas.
Mesa Community College	Adams Elementary School	I plan on becoming a grade school teacher in the next three years. I have made a commitment to myself to only work in Title I or struggling schools, because I believe I can make a difference.	I don't even know where to begin. Ever since I started my Service project, my life has continued to get better. I absolutely love walking into a classroom full of students that are happy to see me. It is definitely the best feeling in the world. I love it when one of my students finally grasps a topic because of something I taught them. I never knew how much potential I have to help people, and this service project has definitely gotten me revved up to help as many people as I can!
Mesa Community College	Mesa Community College	I plan on continuing to educate members of the community on healthy oral habits and nutrition.
Mesa Community College	Mesa Community College Arizona School of Dentistry Give Kids a Smile Sunshine Achers	Throughout my career as a dental hygienist I plan to continue to serve my surrounding community with the knowledge and hygiene services through many community service acts of volunteerism.	My experiences throughout the last few years have been amazing, being able to provide so many of the underserved with the knowledge needed to improve their oral health and nutritional values. This opportunity has taught me the importance of giving to those in need and all the happiness it brings.
Mesa Community College	Mesa Community College	I want to go into schools and teach children in under privileged areas to better care for their oral health	I dropped a tool on one of patients shoulder and he kindly teased me about it and I never dropped a tool on a patient again.
Mesa Community College	Banner Desert Medical Center	I will participate in AmeriCorps again at another health care facility.	I learned that there are patients who are abandoned or left for not by their families. I believe a patient without support does not reach half of their potential health.
Mesa Community College	Mesa Community College Dental Hygiene Clinic	I am interested in a career in dental hygiene that is public health based. I also will continue serving and donating my time and skills to volunteer events that promote providing healthcare to underserved individuals.
Mesa Community College	First Thing First Galveston Clinic Give Kids A Smile Show One Teach One Arizona School of Dentistry and Oral Health	I really hope to be able to enter into public health and provide dental care for the community. I would like to work for Arizona Tribes and educate on the relevance of periodontal health and it's connection to diabetes.	You can't help everyone, but can start by helping one persona at a time.

Mesa Community College	A.T. Still University dental clinic	another term of Americorps for my final year in school
Mesa Community College	MCC Dental Hygiene	I want to continue serving through volunteering at a non profit organization through out the world to provide oral hygiene care.	It taught me to have an open heart and care about the communities oral health, instead of just doing the career for money.
Mesa Community College	Mesa Community College	I plan to become a registered dental hygienist and join the Flying Samaritans
Mesa Community College	Chandler Regional Medical Center, Cardon Children's Medical Center, Banner Baywood Medical Center, Carl T. Hayden VA Medical Center, Banner Heart Hospital, Mercy Gilbert Medical Center	I will definitely volunteer with an organization that is providing free or low cost health services to the community.	I had several clients with diabetes which I know is a growing problem in our country with a huge impact on public health and on healthcare dollars. I see a need for a concerted effort in this area on the part of those in the health community and entities interested in improving the functionality of our populous and lowering dollars spent on healthcare.
